Information About The Sasebo VTF

The Sasebo Veterinary Treatment Facility is authorized to provide care for your privately owned pet(s) as time, space, personal resources permit. Care for privately owned animals is just one of the many missions we perform; therefore we cannot guarantee veterinary services will always be available.

There is an Army veterinarian that is stationed here that does provide services for privately owned animals. The primary mission of our Sasebo veterinarian is to provide medical care for the Military Working Dogs and to provide food inspection services for the base. Due to other obligations of our veterinarian, we do advise that you become familiar with the off base veterinary clinics. You will find a list of off-base veterinary clinics within this welcome packet.

If you have SOFA status, you are required to register your pet with this veterinary facility. Your pet is also required to be current on vaccinations and to have a microchip. This applies to pets living both on and off-base. Please remember to register any pets that you adopt during your time in Japan. Please contact us for further information on these requirements.

Be aware that Japanese law requires annual rabies vaccinations for all pets. Please keep your pet current on their vaccinations. Please feel free to contact us via phone, email, or Facebook anytime during our business hours with any questions you may have.

Welcome to Sasebo!

Common Health Concerns for Pets in Japan

Heartworm Disease: heartworms are large worms that live in the hearts of dogs. While the disease is more common in dogs, cats can also be affected by heartworm disease. Heartworms are transmitted by mosquitoes, causing all dogs (and cats that go outdoors) to be exposed to the disease. The infection can be life-threatening, and treatment can be expensive, painful, and time consuming. To prevent heartworm disease, we recommend all dogs (and cats who go outdoors) to be on a monthly heartworm prevention.

Prevention is affordable and is given in a treat form once a month. Dogs require an initial heartworm test to ensure they have not been infected prior to starting the prevention, and then annual tests thereafter.

Heat Stress: summers in Sasebo are very hot and humid, and dogs can be at a high risk for heat injury from July through September. Risk factors for heat injury include age (very young and older dogs), breed (dogs with short noses, such as bulldogs, pugs, and boxers), and conditioning (overweight dogs, dogs not acclimated to high temperatures). To reduce the risk of heat injury, always provide fresh water to your pet. Provide shady areas in your yard to seek shelter, and do not leave your pet unattended in the yard during the hot summer days. Avoid exercising during the hot times of day and be cautious with the pavement temperature when walking your dog. Additionally, NEVER leave your pet unattended in a vehicle.

Venomous Snakes: Mamushi snakes are pit vipers with venom similar to water moccasins and rattle snakes from the United States. They are typically 1-3 feet long with a pale gray, reddish brown, or yellow brown background color with large, darker, irregularly shaped blotches along its length. It can be found in swamps, marshes, meadows, woodlands, and rocky areas. Yamakagushi snakes are dark green with black and bright orange markings and are usually 2-3 feet long. This snake frequently flees larger predators and bites are uncommon.

Insects: fleas and ticks are common in Japan and may be a significant issue for your pet depending on their lifestyle. Giant centipedes (mukade) can grow up to 20 cm long. Their stings can cause intense pain and swelling but are not life threatening unless there is an underlying allergy.

Feline Leukemia Virus (FeLV) and Feline Immunodeficiency Virus (FIV) (cats): these are viral diseases which are transmitted through contact with other cats, typically through fighting. Cats can be infected without showing clinical signs for months to years. Indoor cats have little exposure to these viruses, however cats that go outside have a higher exposure due to the high prevalence of the viruses in stray populations. For indoor cats, we recommend testing for FeLV/FIV once in their life, typically during kitten vaccines, to make sure they were not infected by their mothers. For indoor/outdoor cats, we recommend testing for FeLV/FIV annually and vaccinating for FeLV.

What to Do At the Airport (s)

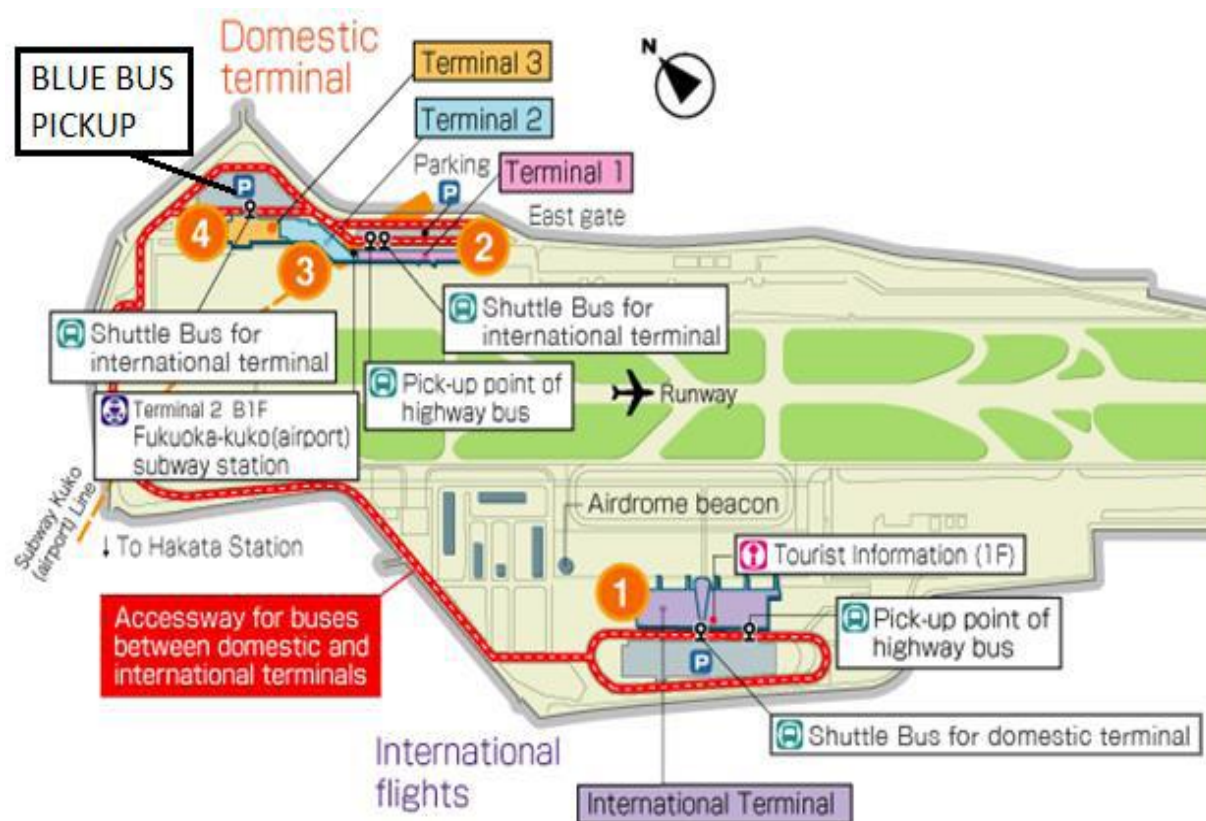

Landing in Tokyo (Narita/Haneda) airport and/or Fukuoka International Airport

The majority of those PCSing to Sasebo will land at Narita International Airport then continue on to Fukuoka Domestic Airport (FUK). Others may arrive directly at the Fukuoka International Airport. At the first airport you arrive in Japan, you must go through immigration and fill out immigration's entry card, custom's declaration card, present government identification, passports and orders. You are responsible for collecting your luggage before proceeding through Customs and Immigration. After you pass through Customs and Immigration, you are responsible for the transfer and check-in process for your domestic flight to Fukuoka. (If you need any assistance, feel free to ask the airport staff.)

If arriving at the Fukuoka International Terminal, utilize the airport "free" shuttle to transfer to the Domestic Terminal. At FUK Domestic Terminal Number 3, exit the baggage claims section going into the arrivals waiting area where a uniformed military service member will be posted. The Bus Attendant will verify bus reservations, collect a copy of your orders (as applicable), and add personnel to the bus manifest based upon priority seating and space availability. Once all customers have been accounted for and verified, the bus attendant will escort everyone to the bus located in bus parking lot approximately 250 yards from the airport. If there are not enough seats available, passengers are responsible for procuring an alternate means of transportation to Sasebo.

Youth Sponsorship Program

Dear Parents,

CFAS Youth warmly invite you and your child to take part in the Navy Youth Sponsorship Program (NYSP) collaboration between Sasebo Elementary, Darby Elementary, E. J. King Middle/High School, and Morale, Welfare & Recreation (MWR) Child & Youth Programs (CYP). The purpose of the Navy Youth Sponsorship Program is to provide information, discussion and support concerning the needs of the transitioning military child.

In today's military, more and more service members are on a schedule that can be both demanding and stressful. We anticipate that the NYSP will provide transitioning students with valuable information to assist them as they adjust to a new area, and will help them build lasting bonds with other military students. Youth involved in the program will gain the following information and experience:

- Transitioning – The military child shares experience transitioning from one area to another with other military children.
- Support – The transitioning child will learn about available resources and support in the new area.
- Academic Avenue – The transitioning child will learn what to expect from the new school.
- Military Solidarity – Through spending time together and sharing stories with other military children about their military journey, transitioning children can build relationships with children in their new area, which can reduce their anxiety regarding adjusting to a new community.

If you would like your child to be a Youth Sponsor, please fill out the bottom portion of this letter and return by email to: SLO_CFA_Sasebo@fe.navy.mil

Sincerely,
School Liaison Officer

How to Present a Positive Image to our Japanese Hosts

When in Public

- Please refrain from smoking on public transportation. All trains including long distance buses and trains do not permit smoking.
- Converse in a low to moderate voice when in public. Yelling or loud conversations disturbs and frightens our hosts.
- Additionally, use earphones with portable stereos and keep your car's stereo volume down when your vehicle windows are open.
- Loud and raucous behavior in public is not acceptable. The Japanese are very calm people as a whole. Boisterous behavior is equated with hooliganism and trouble.
- While the Japanese have learned English in school, they generally are not conversationally proficient. Be patient; talk slowly and clearly. Use a translation app on your phone if you feel it necessary.
- Try to use some Japanese words or phrases when interacting with our hosts. They appreciate our effort and respect our taking the time to try to learn their language.
- Observe how the Japanese do things. "When in Rome do as the Romans do" can very well be applied to Japan.
- Unacceptable behavior usually feels inappropriate when you're doing it. Rely on your common sense. This is just one of the ways to show respect for the Japanese culture while you are here.
- Be polite and considerate. It is the way we expect foreigners to act when they're visiting the U.S.

In Shops and Restaurants

- Remember, Yen is the only currency acceptable in Japanese establishments. They do not accept dollars, as in the case of some foreign countries you may have visited.
- Most establishments do not take credit or debit cards. Cash (yen) is generally the preferred method of payment.
- While bargaining is acceptable in some countries, in Japan this is not the norm. On large purchases, you may ask if there is any discount, or one may automatically be given to you.
- Do not tip in Japan. It is not expected in restaurants or taxis, and in fact is considered an insult to most Japanese people. Some American franchised restaurants and beauty salons welcome tipping. You will see the "We welcome tipping" next to the cashier.
- In some restaurants (and hospitals), you are expected to remove your shoes. Always have your socks on when you intend to dine off-base. Such establishments will provide slippers for you to put on, upon removal of your footwear.

In a Japanese Home

- Always remember to remove your shoes before stepping up from the genkan (entry) area of a Japanese home into the house proper.
- Always remove your house slippers when you enter a tatami room in a Japanese home-bare feet or socks only on tatami mats.
- Be sure to lather up and rinse off thoroughly outside of a Japanese bathtub. The bath water should be reheated and reused by the entire family for a number of days before being drained.

Eating and Dinning In Japan

In Japan, some restaurants and private houses are equipped with low Japanese style tables and cushions on the floor, rather than with Western Style chairs and tables.

Restaurant with traditional low tables

A DAMP TOWEL Just after you sit down at the tables, you will receive a hot (or cold one in summer) damp, white towel called o-shibori. In a restaurant it is wrapped in plastic or is often served on a small oblong tray specially made for the o-shibori. Use the towel to wipe your hands. In less formal situations, Japanese men often wash their faces with the towels, but it is best not to do this. Place the towel back on the tray. The o-shibori will stay on the table throughout the meal and often, napkins are not supplied. It is advisable to keep tissue or handkerchief with you at all times.

ITADAKIMASU AND GOCHISOSAMA In Japan, you say “itadakimasu” (“I thank you for your sacrifice”) before starting to eat, and “gochisaosama (deshita)” (“Thank you for the fantastic meal) after finishing the meal.

Note: According to the Buddhism philosophy, Buddhists are to thank to the ingredients (animals and plants) to have them sacrifice their lives for humans before they start eating. The Buddhists are to thank people who prepared and served the meals to finish eating.

INDIVIDUAL VERSUS SHARED DISHES It is not uncommon in private households and in certain restaurants (e.g. izakaya, or Japanese pub) to share several dishes of food at the table rather than serving each person with his/her individual dish. In such a case, you are supposed to move some food from the shared plates onto your own plate by yourself, using the opposite end of your hashi, or chopsticks, (if you have used them already) or with serving chopsticks that may be provided for that purpose.

ETIQUETTE FOR EATING WITH CHOPSTICKS:

- Hold your chopsticks one thirds from the thicker ends.
- When you are using your chopsticks and when you are finished eating, lay them down in front of you with tip to the left.
- Do not stick chopsticks upright into your food, especially not into rice. Only at funerals are chopsticks stuck into the rice that is put onto the altar.
- Do not pass food with your chopsticks directly to somebody else's chopsticks. Only at funerals are the bones of the cremated body given in that way from person to person.
- Do not spear food with your chopsticks.
- Do not point with your chopsticks at someone or something.
- Do not move your chopsticks around in the air too much, nor play with them.
- Do not move around plates or bowls with chopsticks.
- To separate a piece of food into two pieces, exert controlled pressure on the chopsticks while moving them apart from each other.
- If you have already used your chopsticks, use the opposite end of your chopsticks in order to move food from the shared plate to your own plate.

Knife and fork are used for Western food only. Spoons are sometimes used to eat Japanese dishes that are difficult to eat with chopsticks; for example some donburi dishes or Japanese style curry rice. A Chinese style ceramic spoon is sometimes used to eat soups.

COMMON JAPANESE TABLE MANNERS

- Blowing your nose in public, especially at the table, is considered bad manners.
- It is considered good manners to empty your dishes to the last grain of rice.
- Talking about distasteful topics during or before a meal is not appreciated by most people.
- Unlike in some other parts of East Asia, it is considered bad manners to burp.
- After finishing your food, try to place all your dishes in the same way they were at the start of the meal. This includes re-placing the lid of dish (if it comes with one) and re-placing your chopsticks on the holder or into their paper slip, if applicable.

DRINKING ETIQUETTE

When drinking alcoholic beverages, it is a Japanese custom to serve each other, rather than pour the beverage into one's own glass. You are to periodically check your friends' cups, and serve them again once their cups are about to be empty. Likewise, if someone wants to serve you more alcohol, you should quickly empty your glass and hold it towards that person.

While it is considered bad manners to become obviously drunk in some formal restaurants, for example in restaurants that serve kaiseki ryori (Japanese haute cuisine), the same is not true for other types of restaurants such as izakaya, as long as you do not bother other guests.

Do not start drinking until everybody at the table is served and the glasses are raised for a drinking salute, which usually is "kampai". Avoid using "chin chin" when drinking a toast, since these words refer to the male anatomy in Japanese. It is quite common for the Japanese to toast, usually with beer or sake. It recognizes a day's event or acknowledges good efforts. If you do not drink alcoholic beverages, it is acceptable to toast with orange juice or even green tea. The important point is that your share in the group celebration.

COMMON JAPANESE FOOD ETIQUETTE

Rice:

Take the rice bowl in one hand and the chopsticks in the other. Lift it towards your mouth while eating. Do not pour soy sauce over rice.

Sushi:

Pour soy sauce into the small plate provided. It is considered bad manners to waste soy sauce; try not to pour more sauce than needed. You do not have to add wasabi into your soy sauce. The sushi pieces usually already contain wasabi, and some pieces are supposed to be eaten without wasabi. If you choose to add wasabi, use only a small amount in order not to offend the sushi chef. If you do not like wasabi, you can request that none is added into your sushi. In general, you are supposed to eat a sushi piece in one bite. Hands or chopsticks can be used to eat sushi. For nigiri, dip the piece into the soy sauce upside-down with the fish part ahead. A few kinds of nigiri, for example, marinated pieces, should not be dipped into the soy sauce. For gunkan, pour a small amount of soy sauce over it, rather than dipping it into the sauce.

Sashimi:

Put some soy sauce into the small plate provided. Mix some wasabi into soy sauce, but do not add too much wasabi as this would overpower the taste of the raw fish (and possibly offend the chef). Use the sauce for dipping sashimi pieces. Some types of sashimi are enjoyed with ground ginger rather than wasabi.

Miso Soup:

Drink the soup out of the bowl as if it were a cup or eat with the spoon provided. You can also eat the solid pieces with your chopsticks.

Noodles:

Lead the noodles with your chopsticks into your mouth, while sucking them down in with a controlled slurping sound. Try to copy the slurping sound of people around you. If a spoon is provided, use it to eat the soup; otherwise, lift the bowl to your mouth to consume the soup.

Kare Raisu (Japanese style curry rice) and other rice dishes, in which the rice is poured over a curry sauce may be somewhat difficult to eat with chopsticks. Kare Raisu is often eaten with a spoon rather than chopsticks.

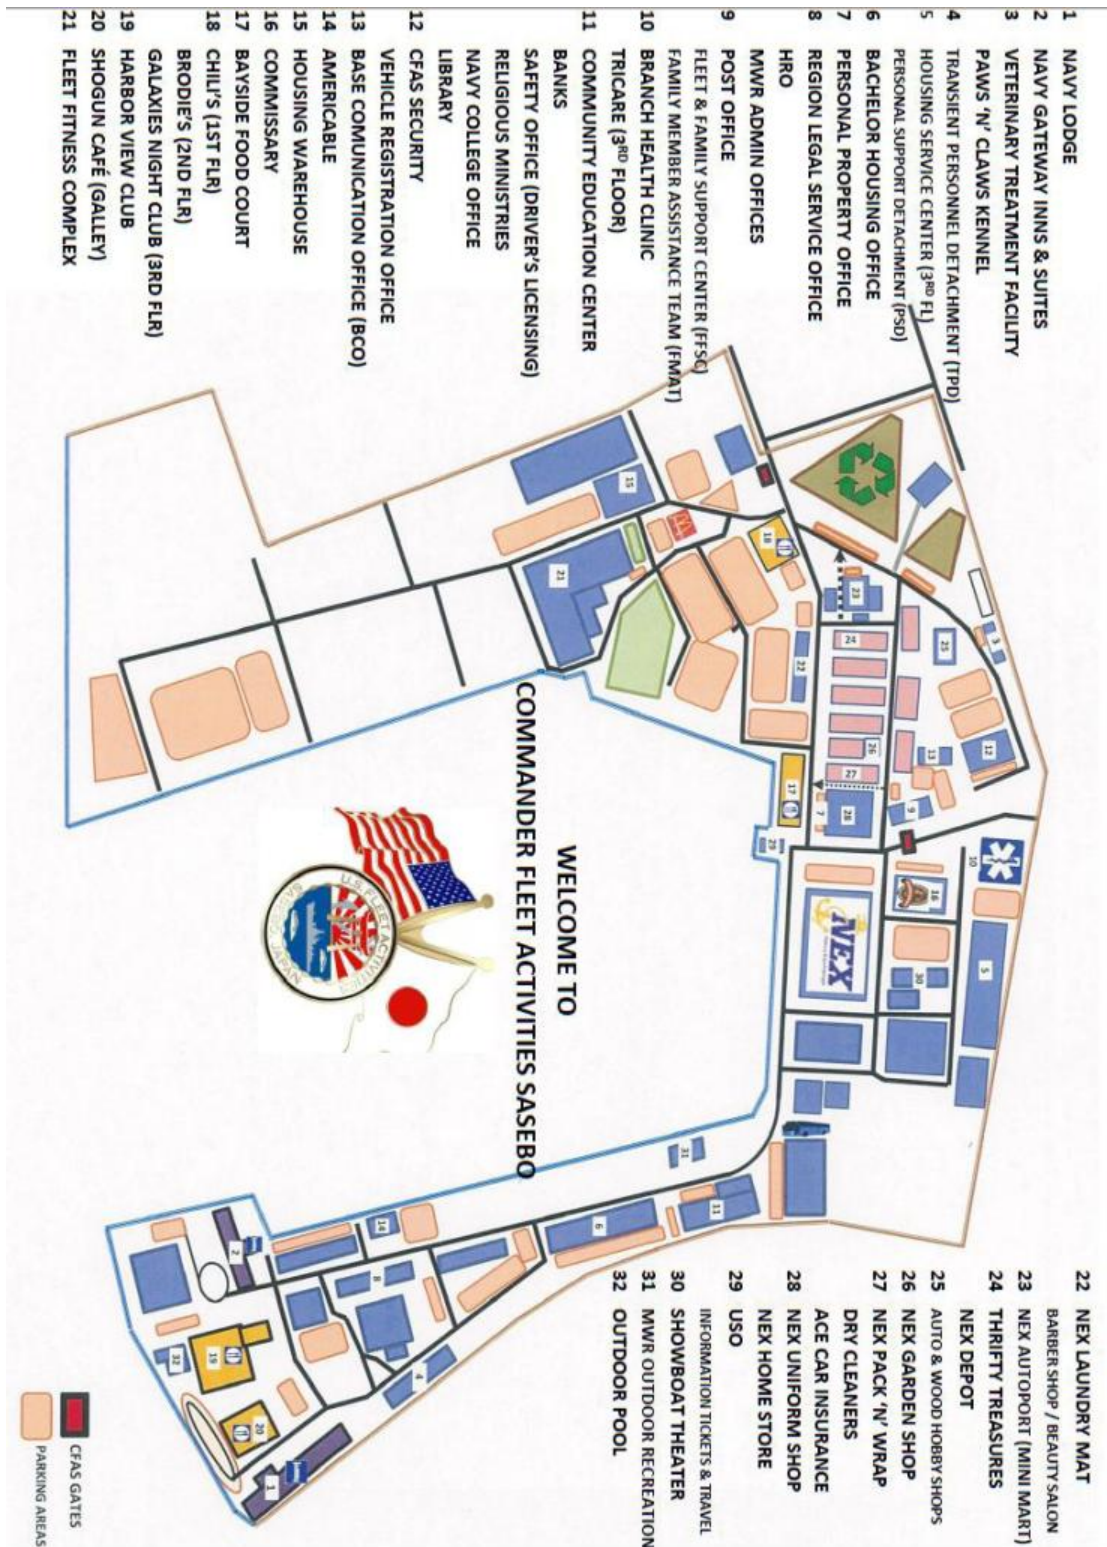

Big pieces of food:

(e.g. shrimp tempura) Separate the piece with chopsticks (This takes some practice), or just bite off a piece and put the rest back onto your plate.

Family housing in Sasebo currently comprise a total of 749 units located at Dragon Vale, Fiddler's Green, and Hario Village. Dragon Vale and Fiddler's Green housing areas are located right outside the main base in the City of Sasebo, Japan. Hario Village is located at scenic Hario-shima (Hario Island) and is right beside Huis Ten Bosch – a Dutch Village & Theme Park. We offer two, three and four bedroom units located in mid-rise and high-rise apartments, garden-style units, and town homes.

Dragon Vale / Fiddler's Green

Dragon Vale and Fiddler's Green housing areas are located across the street from Sasebo Naval Base. Residents utilize all main base facilities including the commissary, medical clinic, gyms, swimming pool, Movie Theater, restaurants, banks, chapel, post office and the Navy Exchange. Located in the Main Base housing area you will find Sasebo Elementary School (K-6), E.J. King School (7-12), teen center, youth center, and a child development center. There are 184 available homes which are a combination of tower apartments, garden-style apartments, and townhouses. There are several variants of two, three and four bedroom units. Sizes and floor plans may vary.

Hario Village

The Hario Village housing area is a scenic and peaceful community located 20 minutes from Main Base (via the expressway). There is a home-to-work shuttle bus program that runs two times a day between Main Base and Hario Village. In addition to the 464 family housing units, Hario Village has the larger commissary, a gym, swimming pool, tennis courts, teen center, youth center, community center, village theater, chapel, post office, ATM, food court, gas station, medical/dental clinic, NEX Home Store, and a child development center. Also located at Hario Village is J.N. Darby Elementary School (K-6). Middle School and High School students are bussed to the E.J. King School at Main Base.

Off Base Japanese Rental Units

Most newcomers are shocked by their first look at available rental houses. Expect to see small houses averaging 720 square feet or less for a two bedroom unit. They are built with unfamiliar materials like tatami (straw mat) floors, and unfamiliar appliances or no appliances at all. Newer homes have only one or two tatami rooms; the rest have tile or hardwood floors, and some homes have no tatami. The standard bedroom size is six tatami (6T), about 9 ft. by 12 ft. A "large master bedroom" is eight tatami (8T), or 12ft. by 12 ft. Houses often have narrow doors and halls, and narrower staircases (e.g., 27 inch wide doors). Therefore, king size mattresses often won't fit upstairs. Door frames are often lower, about six feet from floor to top. Oversized couches or overstuffed chairs may not fit, since dining rooms are often just one end of a living room. Storage inside the house or outside may be limited or non-existent, and there is usually no attic or basement and mostly no garages.

Sponsors with large families having a four or more bedroom requirement are advised that suitable accommodations in both on and off base housing are severely limited. Sponsors in this category should contact Sasebo HSC about two months prior to orders execution to get current availability information.

HOMES.mil is a new official Department of Defense (DoD) website, dedicated to helping Service members, Families, and DOD civilians find housing.

Effective 25 Jun 2013 all Active Duty Accompanied Members must reside in on-base housing.

All incoming military families are involuntarily assigned to MFH meeting their eligibility requirements based on rank and family composition (sorry - I know we love them, but dogs are not considered to be part of the family composition for housing assignment purposes), without regard to location (Dragon Vale or Hario Village) or type of unit (garden-style apartment, townhouse, or tower unit). Members declining involuntary assignment will no longer be eligible to receive a government funded courtesy move (moving from off-base to on-base) and Temporary Lodging Allowance (TLA) is forfeited in 30 days or on the availability date of the unit offered, whichever is later. Furthermore, Member will not be eligible for Overseas Housing Allowance (OHA) and (Move In Housing Allowance (MIHA) entitlements.

Eligibility to Military Family Housing

- All military personnel completing an accompanied tour with bona fide family members are eligible for MFH. Bona fide family members are those who have received dependency status, command sponsorship approval, and will reside with the sponsor for nine consecutive months or more each year during the sponsor's tour.
- All military personnel with newly acquired family members and/or non-command sponsored family members who will reside with their sponsor for nine consecutive months or more each year during the sponsor's tour may apply for MFH. The control date will be the date when HSC receives the command sponsorship approval.

Offer of assignment to MFH will not be made until a birth certificate is received or a waiver granted by the HA to reside in MFH prior to birth has been received by the HSC.

Assignments to MFH will be terminated after five consecutive years, unless the ICO determines it is in the best interest of the government to extend occupancy. Such decisions will be documented and kept on file for a minimum of three years.

- Other civilian government employees and American Red Cross personnel in grade ARC 34 or higher and accompanied with bona fide family members with command sponsorship that will reside with the sponsor for nine consecutive months or more each year during the sponsor's tour, are eligible for MFH.

Assignments to MFH will be terminated after five consecutive years unless the ICO determines it is in the best interest of the government to extend occupancy. Such decisions will be documented and kept on file for a minimum of three years. The HSC will determine eligibility for MFH for non-appropriated fund personnel who are on transportation agreements based on equivalency in pay grade and equivalency certification from the employer's management authority. Non appropriated personnel shall pay the established rental and utility rates for MFH.
- DOD sponsored civilian personnel accompanied with bona fide family members who will reside with the sponsor for nine consecutive months or more each year during the sponsor's tour and command sponsored may be provided MFH when surplus assets are available or under special priority situations as determined by HA. Assignments to MFH will be terminated after five consecutive years unless the ICO determines it is in the best interest of the government to extend occupancy. Such decisions will be documented and placed on file for a minimum of three years.

Temporary Lodging Allowance (TLA)

TLA accrual begins the day the member reports to the new permanent duty station. Paid TLA begins when member and family report to the new duty station. Member must check-in to Housing Service Center to submit an application to be eligible for TLA after check-in to your new command. TLA is normally granted to active duty members with command sponsored dependents and dual military couples. The purpose of TLA is to help defray the cost of meals and lodging while member is seeking off-base housing. TLA may be granted for 60 days. TLA is a reimbursable entitlement and paid in 10 day increments.

Temporary Quarters Subsistence Allowance (TQSA)

The primary guidelines for TQSA CFAS HSC will ensure economical management and compliance with applicable regulations and policies. DOD civilians under transportation agreement and entitled to TQSA will be managed in coordination with their servicing Human Resources Office (HRO) using the Department of State Standardized Regulations (DSSR)

When a valid offer for MFH is available to a family based on family composition, but unable to accept, the sponsor will be notified in writing and the TQSA entitlements will cease thirty (30) days after notification of MFH availability or unit move-in date, whichever is later.

Failure to apply for MFH within 30 days, your control date will be the date of application and also will not be authorized for a government-funded local move.

If you would like to send your application form and required documents in advance, you are more than welcome to do so 30 days prior to your arrival. We will hold your application and that will be activated on a waiting list AFTER you reported to your new command on board CFA Sasebo. Your name will not go on a waiting list until after you have arrived, reported to your new command and completed the application process with counselor.

Control Date & Waiting List Placement

- Member's Control Date will be usually date detached from last PDS, activity loss departure date.
- Control date determines the position on a waiting list and waiting time period.
- If member fail to apply for MFH within 30 days, his/her control date will be the actual date of application (walk-in date). Member will start at the bottom of the waiting list and will not be authorized for a government funded local move from his/her off-base residence.
- The waiting times are estimates and subject to change daily.

Housing Offer & Assignment

There will be an initial waiting list based on your pay grade and bedroom eligibility. Member will be offered the next available unit at the earliest move-in date unit. House offer and assignment are based on member's pay grade and family composition listed on his/her Dependent Entry Approval.

Once member or spouses have been contacted and an offer of MFH has been made, member has 48 hours to accept or decline the offer. Member and spouse should discuss housing options prior to any offer as many service members are deployed when an offer occurs. If member or spouse do not respond within 48 hours after being contacted and made an offer, it will be considered an automatic declination of MFH. This has the same effect as if member declined in writing. A member either accepts and move-in or may decline the offer.

All assignments to Military Family Housing are for the duration of the sponsor's duty at the geographic location, Sasebo. Any follow-on tours/extensions in Sasebo (sea or shore) are considered as in the same geographic location. Relocation to another unit is not authorized unless there is an increase in bedroom entitlements (self-move) or promotion from enlisted to officer (funded move).

As offers could be made while the unit is in the Change-of-Occupancy Maintenance phase, the offered unit may not be available to viewed. In that case a like unit may be available to be viewed. If no units are available for viewing, member's decision will have to be made based on available floor plans.

BAH/OHA stops on the Date of Assignment to Housing

Housing FAQs

Q: Where can I find an application and other documents required for housing?

Q: If I apply for housing using the Housing Early Assistance Tool (HEAT), does the date I submit my application become my control date?

No. HEAT does not change existing policy for determining your control date.

Q: What is the Family Housing wait list based upon?

The wait list for Family Housing is based on Service member rank and bedroom requirement. Here in Sasebo, Officers and enlisted personnel separate wait lists because we have officer and enlisted units.

Q: How is my name placed on the housing waiting list?

You will be placed on the housing waiting list according to your pay grade category and the number of bedrooms you qualify for. For example, if you are an E5 with two children, you will be placed on the Enlisted three bedroom housing waiting list. A member may not be placed on more than one waiting list.

Q: How is my control date established?

Your control date for placement on the housing waiting list is normally your date of detachment from the previous permanent duty station. For example, if you detached from your previous permanent duty station 1 April 20xx, you will be placed on the waiting list with the control date of 1 April 20xx, provided you come to the Housing Service Center within 30 days of reporting to your command.

If two or more sponsors on the same waiting list have the same control date, placement on the list will be based on seniority.

Q: I am the sponsor of an Exception Family Member (EMF) registered in the EFMP. Is special consideration given to this circumstance for my control date?

Possibly. Family members designated as Categories IV and V EFM's are severely disabled, and Navy Housing strives to provide permanency in living arrangements. As a result, EFM Categories IV and V are placed directly below the freeze zone. When two or more members are waiting for assignment, the higher of the EFM categories will be given priority in assignment. If members are designated in the same EFM Category, the actual control date will determine the priority of assignment unless written notification is provided by the medical authority indicating unique circumstances.

No. Pets may not be considered as family members for the purposes of military family housing assignment purposes. Therefore, they do not affect the type of unit authorized or the number of bedrooms permitted.

Q: How come my name keeps going down on the list?

You should remember that even though you have been placed on the appropriate waiting list, there is a possibility that you might be displaced by new arrivals who detached from their last permanent duty station before you did.

Q: What happens if my eligibility changes while I'm on the wait list?

If your eligibility changes while on a wait list, the original control date will continue to be used in instances when you will be placed on another wait list, such as: promotion or frocking resulting in eligibility for a higher grade category of housing, a change in priority status, or change of eligibility for number of bedrooms. If the control date would place your name in the freeze zone on the new wait list, then you will be placed immediately below the freeze zone.

Q: Can I request assignment to Main Base housing only?

No, you cannot request a specific unit type or location. The policy states that members will be assigned to military family housing based on eligibility and entitlement, regardless of location or type of unit.

Q: What happens if I placed my name on the housing waiting list for one bedroom less than I am authorized?

If you have requested and are assigned one bedroom less than you are authorized, you will not be authorized to relocate to another larger unit at a later date, unless you increase your family size by an additional member.

Q: How long do I have to move out of temporary lodging and into military family housing after being assigned to it?

Immediately. Any expenses for stays in temporary lodging after assignment will not be covered by temporary lodging allowances.

Q: Can I be authorized to stay in the Navy Lodge and draw TLA until complete with AOB/ICR so my family can secure transportation before accepting a house?

No. TLA, according to the Financial Management Regulations, is authorized upon initial arrival (reporting for duty) at an OCONUS PDS and waiting for Government quarters assignment. If quarters are available when you arrive you will be assigned those quarters and therefore not authorized TLA. Arranging transportation to and from home/work is the responsibility of the service member and their gaining command.

Q: My family is coming later than me. Will I be assigned to military family housing before they arrive?

Yes. You may be assigned 30 days in advance of your family arriving. Please note that you are required to provide Housing Service Center your family's flight itinerary.

Q: My family is coming earlier than me. Can they be assigned housing before I arrive?

Yes, if you have an Advance Travel of Dependents authorization. Your spouse must check-in to the Housing Service Center upon his/her arrival with all the required documentations and a valid power of attorney allowing them to accept housing on your behalf. If your family arrives without an approved Advance Travel of Dependents, they are not entitled to any housing or temporary lodging allowances. Also, they will not be eligible for housing referral services and furnishings support.

Q: What housing allowances am I eligible for?

Military members are entitled to various allowances to ensure the transition to a new location is as smooth and stress-free as possible. For information about your allowances, visit the Defense Travel Management Office website. If you have any questions, contact Command Pay and Personnel Administrator (CPPA).

Q: How can I accept or decline government quarters while I am deployed?

Give your spouse or a friend Power of Attorney before deploying and make sure the Housing Service Center has the designated person's contact information. Power of Attorney can be done at the Naval Legal Services Office.

Q: How can I pay my rent and utility bills while I'm deployed?

The Private Rental Lease Agreement states that the rent is due by the 3rd day of each month. Please make arrangements to pay your rent in advance of your deployment or sign up to pay your rent electronically through GI Bill Pay services. GI Bill Pay Services is an easy, safe and a convenient way to pay your rent and utilities. It is done by electronic bank to bank transfers. You can pay your rent and most utilities through this service. There is a small service charge to use this service. Please contact the Housing Service Center for details or email GI Bill Pay services at sasebo@gibillpay.com.

Q: How can I make arrangements to vacate quarters when I receive PCS orders while I'm deployed?

For government quarters, you have an obligation to notify the Housing Service Center 30 days in advance. Please send a copy of your PCS orders and valid Power Of Attorney (POA) to your spouse so he/she can make arrangements for your household goods pack-out at the Personal Property Office. Pre-Termination inspection and Final Inspection should be scheduled by your spouse at the Housing Welcome Center.

For private rental, you have an obligation to notify your landlord 10 days (30 days for RPP) in advance. The Housing Service Center will contact your landlord as soon as you have found out the approximate date you will terminate the lease. Final Inspection must be scheduled with your landlord or housing agent.

Tips for Job Searching in Sasebo

The first tip is patience. The job market is very tight in Sasebo because it is such a small community. There are plenty of hourly positions available through MWR at their locations around base such as the gym, restaurants, bowling alley, and childcare centers. The NEX and DECA (Commissary) typically have positions available as well. Professional positions are hard to come by; especially at the post-baccalaureate level. Consider volunteer positions to gain valuable resume experience and prevent gaps in your resume. Networking is key to the success of your job search.

Connect with your Command Ombudsman and Family Readiness Group

Have you reached out to your command family Ombudsman recently? If so, then you are aware that your Ombudsman is a trained volunteer who has been officially appointed by the Commanding Officer to serve as an information link between command leadership and Navy families. Your Ombudsman may have reached out to you upon your arrival to a new duty station or presented at your command deployment brief.

Ombudsmen may distribute vital command information and resources and may also maintain an official Facebook page, where you can connect and communicate with them and other families. Whatever the means of communication, it is important to make sure that you are connected to your Ombudsman and are receiving the valuable information that they provide.

Ombudsmen are required to report all known or suspected child abuse/neglect, domestic abuse, suspected/potential homicides, suspected/potential suicidal risks, sexual assaults.

Family Readiness Groups (FRGs) are non-federal entities that provide family members with a support network that is informational and social. They provide support during deployments, help families adjust to challenges and to support one another in time of personal crises, and coordinate social events.

Ombudsmen and FRGS work together to support Navy families. Both are an integral part of a support network. They are here to support you!

FAQs

Q. How do I apply for the BRC?

A. You can enroll yourself to the BRC1/BRC2 through ESAMS.

Q. Is there a motorcycle to use at the BRC?

A. Unfortunately, we don't have any motorcycles for students. You will need to obtain a motorcycle which has valid JCI and insurance for the course. Rental motorcycles are authorized to use at the course. Borrowing motorcycles is strictly prohibited.

Q. How do I transport a motorcycle to the range?

A. The motorcycle must be transported to the range by a method other than riding by the BRC student, e.g.

- 1) Rent a truck from base resources.
- 2) Ask a rental motorcycle shop to transport. You will need to request for an access pass to Akasaki.

- 3) Have a friend who has van or truck deliver the motorcycle to the range and pick it up upon completion of the course.

Q. I am a first time rider and I have never had a motorcycle license in U.S. Is there any restriction on engine size?

A. Yes, there is. First time riders are restricted to 400 cc engine and below motorcycles for one year. After operating free of accidents or moving violations for at least one year, the operator must attend the BRC 2 on a larger displacement motorcycle to become licensed to operate a larger motorcycle.

Q. What paperwork do I need to attend the BRC?

A. Download all required documents via ESAMS and submit at the beginning of the class. You must also complete a free e-course through the link in that document prior to the class and bring the certificate as well.
